ENJOY HALF HOLIDAY

UNEMPLOYED NOT NUMEROUS IN POLICE COURT DOCK.

Two Colored Damsels the First to Face Justice Today—The Penalties for Wrongdoing.

"The early closing movement has spread to the class of the unemployed, was the remark of Policeman Flynn this morning when only fourteen prisoners answered roll call at the Police Court. "The boys and girls who patronize his honor believe in the Saturday half holiday," he added, "and they know that there can be no holiday if they get arrested in time for court Saturday mornings. Whatever bad may be said of the people who pay so much per day for the year round, their conduct during the latter part of the week shows they have some consideration for the people who are employed every day in the year, except Sundays, in the courts."

Pearl Roberts and Mary Carter, two colored damsels, were the first to face Judge Bundy when the wheels of justice began to revolve at 9 o'clock last night.

A policeman told the court that the women were fighting with a colored man, while near the corner of 21st and I streets northwest about 11 o'clock last night. "Were they drunk or sober?" Prosecutor Pugh asked.

"Both of them had been drinking, but they were not drunk,"

"Your honor," Mary said, when she was called on to make an explanation, "Pearl and I were walking on the street last night when a colored man came up and struck me in the face and Pearl took my part by telling him that he ought to be ashamed of himself."

"Did you know the man?" the court asked.

"Yes, sir; he used to be a friend of mine," was the answer.

Pearl made a statement of a like character, but it failed to secure their release, for they were each fined $5, with fifteen days on the farm in default.

Lena West, another colored woman, attired in a flaring red waist, was the next in line, and she was charged with being guilty of misconduct while on Q street northwest last night.

"The court fines you $5," Clerk Harper told Lena.

"I've got her fine," spoke up a colored woman in the audience.

The woman was instructed to deposit the money at the office of the collector of fines, and Lena was released from custody.

Two Sams Disagree.

Sam Gordon and Sam Briggs, both colored, were friends until last night, when they had a misunderstanding at a colored picnic grounds in Anacostia. They clinched and were taken into custody by Policeman King.

When they were arraigned in the Police Court this morning Briggs laid all the blame on Gordon.

"I was dancing with a lady friend and Gordon ran against us," Briggs declared, "and when I called his attention to it he got mad."

Gordon claimed that Briggs was responsible for the trouble, and the court disposed of the matter by assessing each $3. If they fail to pay they will each spend ten days on the farm.

"You are charged with being a vagrant; an idle and disorderly person; a person of evil life and evil fame; a person without visible means of support; a person repeatedly drunk in public places,"

Clerk Harper read from an information to William Wheeler, colored, who is about thirty years old.

"Tell the court what you know about this man," Prosecutor Pugh told Policeman Johnson.

"I picked him up on the street dead drunk last night," the officer testified.

"How often have you seen him under the influence of liquor during the last month?" the officer was asked.

"Ten times, I guess," was the response. "Indeed, I wasn't drunk," Wheeler declared. "I was only resting when I was arrested."

"What about your constant drinking?"

"It's not so; I haven't been drunk that many times, but I take a drink now and then."

"Three dollars or ten days," was what the court said.

Court Adjourns Early.

The remaining cases that were called to the attention of the court were of the ordinary kind, and were disposed of according to the evidence, and court adjourned early.

Edward Fernebaugh, rather than appear in court to answer to a charge of fast driving, forfeited $10 collateral.

He was arrested on Pennsylvania avenue northwest by Policeman Kearns last night.

NIPPED IN THE BUD.

Ex-Convict's Scheme to Make Money Without Working.

William Chew, colored, thirty-two years of age, who was recently released from the West Virginia penitentiary, where he served a term of three years, was arrested last night by Detectives Lacy and Weedon on a charge of larceny by trick. It is said that while Chew was confined in prison he thought up a scheme whereby he could make money without working for it, and there lies the cause of his trouble, for his scheme was nipped in the bud by the detectives last night.

While a prisoner Chew managed to become acquainted with a number of men who were doing time from Washington, and he learned the cause of their troubles. When he reached home the other day he went to see Lena Williams, a colored woman whose better half is behind the bars up in West Virginia, and told her he could get a pardon for her husband if she was willing to pay for it. He succeeded in getting $5 from her several days ago, and she was informed that her husband would soon come home.

"I went to Oyster Bay and consulted with President Roosevelt and he consented to sign a pardon," Chew told the woman. When her husband failed to put in his appearance she became suspicious that all was not right and consulted Detective Lacy, with the result that Chew was again landed behind the bars.

He was arraigned before Judge Mills of the Police Court this morning on a charge of larceny and entered a plea of guilty. Prosecutor Mulwony related the facts to Judge Mills and a fine of $20 was imposed with two months in jail as the equivalent.

Later in the day Chew was taken to police headquarters, where he was photographed for the rogue's gallery.

AGED WOMAN IN CUSTODY.

Accused of Attempting to Pick a Pocket in Center Market.

An elderly woman dressed in black, who gave her name as Elizabeth Hannagan, was photographed at police headquarters today because she had been arrested on a charge of having attempted to pick the pocket of a woman in the Center market. She denied the charge, but Detectives Tyner and O'Brien, who arrested her, allege that she had her hand in the woman's pocket at the time of her arrest.

Mrs. Hannagan, as she gave her name, was carrying a heavy piece of cloth or shawl such as women who work in crowds usually carry. Her statement was that the article was a shawl intended to throw about her shoulders to keep her warm.

"I'm seventy-three years old," she told Captain Boardman, "and live at 700 Eagle street, Cleveland, Ohio."

"Are you certain about the number?" Captain Boardman asked, explaining that he was about to telegraph to Cleveland to inquire about her identity.

"I may be mistaken about the number," she stated, "but I'm right about the street."

She came here a few days ago with her husband, she stated, and they have been stopping in Georgetown. The woman expressed a willingness to leave the city if released, but Captain Boardman is anxious to learn something of her identity. Copies of her photograph will be sent to the authorities of other cities as soon as they are printed. Mrs. Hannagan, the police say, answers the description of a woman who was under suspicion in this city about a year ago.

STEAL WATCH AND JEWELRY.

Burglars Visit Home of Mr. George W. Billings.

Burglars visited the home of George W. Billings, 212 G street northwest, about 10 o'clock last night and stole a watch and some jewelry valued at about $90. An entrance was effected by climbing over a shed to a rear second-story window that had been left open. Members of the family were away from home during the evening. One of them returned in time to see a light moving about the house. That light was being carried by a burglar. Detective Horne visited the house shortly after Mr. Billings discovered his loss and investigated the affair. The jewelry stolen included a gold watch and several rings.

Anacostia and Vicinity.

William Young, the yardmaster at the Anacostia freight yards above Twining City, discovered yesterday morning that a freight car in the yards containing merchandise had been broken open and a case of cigars abstracted.

Mr. Young later found the stolen cigars secreted in an empty box car. He informed the police of the case, and it is under investigation.

The condition of the three children suffering from diphtheria who were removed at different times from the German Orphan Asylum on Good Hope road, Anacostia, to the hospital for contagious diseases continues favorable. It is stated, and their recovery is looked for. Dr. J. S. Harrison of Anacostia, the physician to the asylum, had all the occupants of the asylum undergo anti-toxin treatment. They are at present entirely well.

Old scenes will be enacted and old songs sung tomorrow on the grounds at Good Hope, known in years past as the spot where camp meeting services attracted people from far and near. The annual camp meeting under the auspices of Allan's Methodist Episcopal Church of Good Hope will open at 9:30 o'clock a.m. Services will follow at 11 o'clock a.m., at 3 o'clock p.m. and at 8 o'clock p.m. Rev. D. P. Seaton, presiding elder, will make an address at tomorrow's services. Rev. R. T. Queer, pastor of Allan's Church, will be in charge of the camp meeting, which will continue until Sunday, September 7.

Officer W. W. Andrews of the Anacostia station has returned from his vacation, which he spent at Colonial Beach.

Daniel Robinson, colored, of Hillside, who was charged with setting his dog at a cat, which was killed in the fight that followed between the animals, forfeited $5 collateral in the Police Court.

FAVORABLE REPORT ORDERED.

Application for Permit to Extend Porch Beyond Building Line.

The District Commissioners have decided to make a favorable report on the application filed with the Secretary of War by Appleton P. Clark, architect for the Home Savings Bank, for permission to extend an ornamental porch three feet beyond the building line in the reservation upon which the building fronts near the intersection of 7th street and Massachusetts avenue northwest. The matter was referred to the Commissioners, and by them to the inspector of buildings for report. The inspector states that a projection of this kind would be permitted over the building line on street parking, according to the schedule of projections heretofore existing. He expresses the opinion that such a porch adds greatly to the appearance of the buildings and recommends that the application be approved.

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN.

Negotiations for Constructing Great Falls and Old Dominion Railroad.

Negotiations are pending between the promoters of the Great Falls and Old Dominion railroad and the western capitalists who are considering the matter of undertaking the practical construction of the road. It is said there is a strong probability that contracts will be signed at an early day. The construction of the proposed railroad, is estimated, will involve an expenditure of nearly $1,000,000.

The route now contemplated will extend from the Virginia end of the Aqueduct bridge to Great Falls, where fine power facilities have been secured. Several branch lines are also planned to accommodate nearby towns and villages. The promoters also intend to establish an amusement resort and to erect a large hotel at Great Falls.

The construction of this line, it is considered, will open up a country that has heretofore been practically inaccessible and unmarketable from the real estate dealers' point of view. Those most deeply interested in the project include several national legislators of wealth and influence as well as a number of prominent citizens of means.

As soon as Congress convenes, it is said, a strong effort will be made to secure legislation permitting the road to enter the District of Columbia. In the meantime plans of organization are being perfected and other matters relating to the building of the road will be outlined.

Mr. Leroy Birch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Birch of 3128 Dumbarton avenue, returned this morning from Ithaca, N. Y., where he has been for the past few months taking the summer course in mechanics at Cornell University. Mr. Birch graduated from the Washington Technical High School this spring, and the high recommendations from his instructors at Cornell indicate that he has exceptional aptitude for mechanics. He stood at the head of his class in the school. In the class were instructors in mechanics from several large cities of the east.

Samuel O. Wendel yesterday sold through the Miller-Shoemaker Real Estate Company, parts of lots 11 and 12, block 3, in Friendship and Mt. Airy subdivision. The purchaser was Mr. Henry Gerhardt, who proposes to erect dwellings on the land.

Mr. A. J. Ash has sold to Thomas F. Conroy, lot 4, in Brown's subdivision of square 1280. This is improved property on the west side of Valley street.

WILLIAM H. MILLER'S BEQUESTS.

Exemplified Copy of Will Filed With District Register.

An exemplified copy of the will of William H. Miller of Chester, Pa., the original being on record in Delaware county, Pa., was filed here today. The instrument bears date of July 20, 1901. By its terms premises 64½ street is left his wife, Caroline R. Miller, and his daughter, Emma Grace Miller, jointly. The income from premises 812 1st street is to be divided equally between the wife and daughter mentioned for life. After the death of both the same is to be sold. The proceeds, in case of sale, are to be divided equally among the Wharton Street Methodist Church of Philadelphia, the North Capitol M. E. Church of this city, the South Chester M. E. Church and the St. Daniel's M. E. Church, both of Chester, Pa.

Additional bequests follow: To Margaret Jane Henderson, sister of the testator, $100; to Hattie Miller, a brother, $100; to William Henry Miller, a nephew, $100, and Daniel M. Cue and George Miller, nephews, and Sallie P. Brackney and Isabel Brackney, nieces, $50 each. Household goods and the goods in the testator's store in Chester are left to his wife; premises 620 Tasker street, Philadelphia, to his daughter Emma and a gold watch and chain to his nephew, Wm. H. Miller.

White Bread and Appendicitis

Now for a Few Solid Facts

Don't let any one scare you about food and don't be a fool the other way. Your food either makes or breaks you. That's easily understood. The way you now feed yourself IS RIGHT (FOR YOU) if you are perfectly well. Stick to it. But you can wagger your last dollar your food IS WRONG IF YOU ARE AILING IN ANY WAY. Perhaps a word from a food expert might help you.

APPENDICITIS suddenly sets in after the bowels can no longer stand the abuse of too much starchy food like white bread, potatoes, pasty wheat or oats, sago, tapioca, &c., &c. These are nearly solid starch and starch is required by the body, but when white bread, for instance, is eaten in quantity, a part of the starch sours, ferments, and makes gas that inflames and irritates the bowels, producing constipation and peritonitis, or appendicitis.

Don't think you can leave off all starchy food, that's being a fool the other way. Starch helps furnish the energy for the body, PROVIDED that starch is digested and does not ferment in the bowels.

A practical knowledge of these facts led to the invention of

Grape-Nuts.

In this food the starch is changed into Grape Sugar in exactly the same way it is in the digestive organs of the human body, so when you eat Grape-Nuts you get the needed starchy food, already passed through the first form of digestion, safe and ready for immediate assimilation by nature, it is thereupon quickly taken up by the blood, and carried to the parts of the body for nutrition and strength.

No gas, no overtaxing of the digestive organs, no constipation and NO DANGER FROM EITHER PERITONITIS OR APPENDICITIS.

Remember, the wheat and barley in Grape-Nuts are not predigested by any sort of treatment except moisture, heat and time to let the diastase in the grains grow and thus change the starch. It's only in the "know how," and you can have the good of it by using Grape-Nuts.

Another and most important thing is that white flour, in order to be white, must have the most valuable part of the wheat berry thrown out in milling, because the Phosphate of Potash, for rebuilding the gray matter in brain and nerve centers, the lime for teeth and bone, and several other most important elements, lie up close to the shell of the wheat berry and in the dark-colored part. The white flour miller throws this out.

The makers of Grape-Nuts, KEEP THESE INGREDIENTS IN. That's why steady users of Grape-Nuts are Brainy, Nervy, Healthy people.

Does Grape-Nuts food taste good? Try it dry and crisp, just as it comes from the package. It's already cooked and ready to serve with cream or rich milk poured over. Or try some of the delicious recipes found in the free recipe book in each package.

The above is just plain old common sense applied to the subject of food, and the statements are absolute scientific facts that may be relied upon.
